

Understanding Our Unique Private Practice:

The wisdom of how to transform yourself and achieve your full potential is rare, specialized knowledge many people simply don't know where and how to learn. Through our global community and alliance network, we gather and employ the most advanced wisdom, techniques and tools for removing hindrances and empowering people to create the life, business and/or community they desire in any and all aspects/areas; and achieve greater levels of their own potential/success.

Here at the QEI we practice and teach a wide variety of health-facilitating modalities, including:

- Depth Psychology, Counseling & Psychotherapy
 - Including the highly-effective and efficient techniques Hypnotherapy, NLP and EFT
- Indigenous, Monastic (spiritual practitioner methods, such as those of monks and mystics around the world), Holistic and Dynastic Medicine.
 - Holistic means "whole"/complete person approach, in this case meaning healing the "whole" person on all levels/in all aspects. This includes any techniques, tools, systems or technologies which address the Mental-emotional, Spiritual/"Subtle Bio-electric" Energy (as modern science now calls it), and Physical levels of health all at once, in combination: rather than limiting ourselves to just one single level and ignoring the others.
- The latest leading-edge Bio-Energy Therapies (often combined for greater effect), including (but not limited to)
 - Advanced Sound Therapy (using frequencies customized to your condition, not just relaxation)
 - Light Therapy
 - Microcurrent Therapy - Electric current which has been clinically proven to treat pain as well as some illnesses
 - and soon Laser Therapy & much more!
- As well as techniques we have developed in-house through over 25 years of private practice

We study and practice a mixture of Both traditional And alternative/complimentary therapies. We combine the most effective principles and techniques we find into our coaching, training and healing therapy practices.

We don't care about traditional cultural or ideological boundaries of nation, "race"/culture, or any other superficial difference or imaginary social boundary. We care about helping people, especially how effectively and efficiently techniques work to help people solve problems and achieve goals. We find common industry standards and practices to be at best incomplete and ethically questionable, and often even corrupt and greedy; leading to a waste of time and money on the part of the client, and even serious harm!

We have chosen to expand beyond such limited, unethical and often ineffective and inefficient practices to a more complete and effective model. We are committed to integrity and excellence in every way, especially through effective, efficient facilitation of health and personal transformation, even at the cost of financial gain. This is why we chose to follow the non-profit path and join a private health network: it allowed us that freedom to follow such ethical and integrity standards, since for-profit businesses usually do not.

The QEI Story and Commitment To Excellence as described by our Founder and CEO:

I, Dr. Christopher Moeller (commonly known as The Quantum Empowerment Coach™), am a human potential & personal transformation coach/trainer, as well as a holistic (whole-being) health practitioner licensed through The Turtle Island Network, an international non-profit private health organization. We help people transform themselves and their lives in every way, personal and professional.

I started as a peer counselor in grade school because I have a passion for helping people, and found that I have an unusual level of awareness and talent for understanding people's problems and finding solutions. Over the last 30+ years I studied traditional Depth Psychology and Psychotherapy, as well as learning from psychologists and other health practitioners following a mixture of other forms practiced in other traditions, such as Monastic, Dynastic and Indigenous traditions, and integrated them into my practice. I have added many tools to my toolbox, such as being trained and certified in various advanced therapeutic techniques, including Hypnotherapy and Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP) for healing the sub-conscious mind.

I have also developed some of my own techniques, especially in my work with clients recovering from emotional baggage and PTSD; which has become another area I specialize in over the last 17 years. Traditional psychology techniques usually require years, (often a decade or more!), to work through even one abuse or trauma incident! Most psychotherapy practitioners are not motivated to explore other options, as they enjoy longer client relationships and thereby more income. This is unacceptable to me!

If there's a better way to help someone, I'm going to learn to do it, regardless of whether the technique is from other countries or cultures, scientific or spiritual in origin/perspective. If the current techniques others use aren't very effective and/or require too much time and money, I find other solutions, even if I have to develop them myself. I only care about what works best to help people, because that is my passion and ethical standard.

In my work over the last 15 years, I found that common practices not only needlessly take too long; but they don't work on "Compound"/Complex PTSD. I have been working effectively with people suffering from trauma and abuse for most of my life, even before I knew "Compound PTSD" was an official designation for the more complex cases.

However, when I combined and experimented with two separate techniques I had learned from different practitioners, I was able to create a new and more effective system which blew all others out of the water in efficiency. I realized quickly that this and other knowledge, tools, techniques, technologies and systems I had gathered and developed needed to be better studied and shared with the world. Thus I began creating an organization to do just that. I created The QE Alliance to facilitate global community sharing and cooperation, and the QE Institute to research, develop and share our knowledge and techniques with the world.

Around the world, the rights and freedoms of the people are eroding in the public sector; so we joined the private sector to maintain those rights and freedoms. As a private health network, anyone who seeks services to address their physical health must become a member of the health network to receive such services. This protects both practitioners and clients from mistreatment, and allows freedom to choose and receive natural and alternative medicine and healing services without the restraints forced on the public Allopathic medical system.

This corrupt system of greedy organizations has attempted to restrict, and even unconstitutionally monopolize medical options in the decades and century since it's creation by extremely wealthy business men: who apparently used deceit and bribery of government officials to accomplish their own self-serving agendas, as is described in the research and documentaries posted in our Research Library under "Rockefeller Medicine". You are welcome to follow that link for more details.

Our private health network is an international private organization, and is beyond the restrictions of local and national governments, leaving all participants free to educate themselves and make their own choices for their own bodies. Through the Quantum Empowerment Institute™, we share the most advanced science, tools, techniques and systems we can find to help people heal and create better, more fulfilling lives, with the highest commitment to excellent service. This is our sacred calling and our passion. I intend for the QEI to be a bastion of hope, learning and peace for generations to come.
